

Today, I am very happy to announce that our search for a new ~~comptometre~~ has ended with the successful hiring of Bev Antilley. Bev is very experienced and holds both the CMA and ~~CFO~~ designations issued by the IMA.

Bev will be invaluable in our ~~financial~~ accounting function, as she focuses on our internal measurements and reporting. She has informed me that she wishes to shift our decision-making focus from one based on absorption costing theories to ~~indirect~~ costing methods.

And, Bev has great experience in applying ~~process~~ costing methods. This knowledge will prove especially useful given the need to adequately measure costs for our variety of products and services that are being produced in a high-overhead environment.
