

Examine the following list of "segment disclosures," and "check off" the items that you might expect to find in published financial reports of public companies.

Capital expenditures

Contribution margin

Controllable contribution margin

Depreciation and amortization

Major customers

Net sales

Operating income

Reconciliation of total segment income to corporate income

Residual income

Sales by global geographic area

Total assets

Total variable costs